Subject: ES350.

Hey, I don't know if you have seen the news on an ES crash in San Diego a couple of weeks ago? It was all about an '09 ES350 that had the wrong all weather floor mat (from an RX) and it caught the throttle pedal resulting in a fatal crash.

Knowing you have an ES, I wanted to make sure that: 1) you have the right mats 2) they are not "stacked" all weather mat on top of a carpeted mat 3) they are not upside down 4) they are properly retained by the hooks at the trailing edge of the mat.

Best Regards

Gary
